Delegates Are Entertained By Grace Lutheran

Delegates from all of central California were guests of the Grace Lutheran church at Thirtieth street and Barrett avenue at the semi-annual northern conference of the United Lutheran church synod of California, which is now in session in Richmond.

Two delegates from all Lutheran congregations from Sacramento to Fresno have been sent. They were entertained last evening by the ladies of the local church at a dinner, served at 6 o'clock, which followed an afternoon and evening meeting of the brotherhood. At the termination of the dinner two solos were sung by Rev. Trojan and a talk by Rev. Moll of the First Lutheran church of Oakland, on the "Utilizing of Power in the Church" after which Dr. E. A. Trabert added some thought on the same theme. At 7:45 o'clock the regular communion meeting was held under the direction of J. R. Broyer, Ph. D. of San Francisco.

There will be another meeting this morning from 9:00 o'clock until noon, followed by a farewell luncheon. The program consists of two talks: "The New Attitude in Science," by Dr. E. A. Trabert of Berkeley and "The Holy Spirit in Realization" by Rev. S. T. Himes of this city. These talks are to be followed by a business meeting, as the delegates expect to leave early this afternoon.

Richmond Asked to Contribute $1500 Toward Flood Relief

Stressing the importance of immediate action to aid sufferers in the Mississippi flood area, William Carl Hunt, assistant to the vice-chairman of the American Red Cross, has asked that the Richmond chapter of the Red Cross cooperate to the fullest extent in raising a minimum fund of $5,000,000 set for relief work.

A quota of $1500 has been assigned to the local chapter, and a large percentage of the amount has already been raised, according to Homer W. Patterson, president of the Richmond association.

Both the Lions club and the Elks have contributed liberally toward the pressing need felt in the devastated region. Patterson and Rev. H. L. Oberholzer will bring the story of relief work to the Kiwanis club and the Rotary club.

All social, service, and business clubs are being urged to aid in the work. Marie MacDonald Jensen, secretary of the Merchants' Association announced yesterday. Any contributions from a cent up will be received at any one of the three American Trust company banks in Richmond, at the First National Bank, the Me-

500 ESTIMATED DEAD AS FLOOD WAVE MENACES

Rescue Workers In Fight Against Death; More
Levees Break

(By Universal Service)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 26.—The Mississippi flood, rolling onward to the sea engulfed fresh areas today and seriously menaced all that region lying between Vicksburg and the mouth of the river a hundred miles south of New Orleans.

Rescue and relief work was pushed vigorously. Hundreds of all stayed men, women and children were brought into relief camps and other hundreds were removed from dangerous positions below Greenville, where the crest of the flood is passing tonight.

The dead list grows. Only estimates of the total dead can be made and these run at from 250 to 500. The known dead numbers not more than 125 but it is feared there has been much loss of life in isolated communities. The total death toll may never be known.

And the property damage is only an estimate, running from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000. After rescues have been effected and relief given the destitute plan for control of the rivers flood is expected to be given consideration.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who was at Vicksburg today and who is bound for New Orleans, is expected to secure data on which to make recommendations.

Plans most generally discussed by engineers call for retaining dams upriver to hold the water. Experienced rivermen say enough dams could hardly be built to hold the flood. The water rolling down the valley has been accumulating for many months at up-river points. It is the rain that fell last fall and water in the states of Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Tennessee. It was augmented by heavy rains that fell over the immediate lower Mississippi valley a few weeks ago.

Impounding the water would help, it is admitted by those who have watched the ways of the river, but what is more important is to find a wider outlet for the flood through the lower valley.

Landholders have encroached upon the river. Dykes have been built too close to the river's banks.

Reclamation projects that served as political footballs are blamed (Continued on Page 8)

VOTES CAST IN PRIMARY TOTAL 2720

There were only 2720 votes cast at Tuesday's primary election instead of 2813. This was discovered yesterday by City Clerk A. C. Faris who re-checked the returns. The error was only in the total votes in the precincts and did not affect the standing of any of the candidates.

In precinct No. 21 the total vote given was 82 and it should have been 81; in precinct No. 27 the correct vote was 48 instead of 111 and in precinct No. 29 the correct total was 45 instead of 41. These changes reduced the grand total of the vote just 53.

The general election will be held May 9th, and there will be six names on the ballot, although there will only be five who will make the campaign as C. M. Patten announced yesterday, that as the westside had shown preference for another candidate he would withdraw and give him his support.

The candidates as their names will appear on the ballot are A. L. Paulsen, J. N. Hartnett, V. A. Fenner, Marie L. Ogborn, Rena B. Laufer and C. M. Patten.

LEADER'S HOLD DISCUSSION ON GIRL SCOUT AID

"The Girl Scout Movement in the United States" formed the topic for an interesting talk made by Miss Susan Dyer of Palo Alto, national field representative for the Girl Scouts, before thirty members of the Richmond Business and Professional Women's club at their monthly social meeting last night in St. Edmund's guild hall.

Miss Dyer, who is also a member of the Palo Alto Business and Professional Women's club, outlined the organization and growth of the Girl Scout movement since it was first formed in 1912. An outgrowth of the Boy Scout movement, the organization has developed with rapid strides until today there are 138,000 Girl Scouts in the United States, the speaker said.

Under the direction of Dean Sara Louise Arnold, leader of the movement in the United States, the girls follow a program that includes the following subjects: Personal hygiene, outdoor life, home economics, covering home nursing, cooking and care of the children, community service work and nature studies.

Miss Dyer gave a detailed account of the annual camp held for Washington, Oregon and California at Big Basin, in the Santa Cruz mountains. There the girls do their own cooking and other camp work, sleep out in the open and build brush dressing rooms. While in camp they are taught (Continued on Page 8)

"I Killed Him To Get Rid Of Him," Affirms "Sash Slayer"

Blonde Murderess Weeps
Silently As Charges
Are Read To Her

By DAMON RUNYON
(By Universal Service)
LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 26.—Some say Mrs. Ruth Snyder wept silently in court today.

It may be so. I could detect no sparkle of tears discernible to any but experts in lachrymoseness, let one infer that she is altogether without tenderness of heart, for when they were jotting down the confession that was read in the courtroom in Los Angeles City, Peter Daly, an assistant district attorney, asked her:

"Mrs. Snyder, why did you kill your husband?"

He wanted to know. "Don't put it that way," she said, according to his testimony today. "It sounds so cruel."

"Well, that's what you did, isn't it?" he asked, in some surprise.

"Yes," he claims she answered, "but I don't like that term."

"Well, why did you kill him?" persisted the curious Daly.

"To get rid of him," she answered simply, according to Daly's testimony, and indeed that seems to have been her main idea throughout if all the evidence the state has so far developed is true.

Gray sat with his chin in his hands, his eyes on the floor, scarcely moving a muscle as Mrs. Snyder's confession, damning him in almost every word, was read. I have never seen him show much animation at best, but today he seemed completely sunk.

She met Henry Judd Gray, the corset salesman, in a restaurant in the once throbbing thirties in New York, and the first thing anybody knew she and Henry were thicker than was meat and proper. She wrote Henry and told him how Albert Snyder had threatened her life. She wrote in a code they had rigged up for their own private use and Henry answered saying the only thing to do was to get rid of Albert. They had talked of ways and means and Gray gave her the famous sash weight and went out to Queens village one night to wipe Albert Snyder out.

Henry arranged his alibi in Syracuse and came to New York the night she and her husband and child were at the Pigeon's (Continued on Page 8)

MASONS OPEN SCHOOL WEEK

The Richmond public schools week program sponsored by the Masonic lodges of the city opened last night in the Roosevelt Junior high school auditorium before a good sized crowd.

William H. Hanlon, county superintendent of schools, the principal speaker of the evening, compared the public schools of past and present.

"The policy of school authorities of the past," the speaker stated, "was to make the pupil fit the school, whereas now we try to make the school fit the pupil."

In other words, we make a more thorough study of each pupil's particular personality and govern his education by what we find.

"We also have to keep more abreast of the world's development, and present in our curriculum courses to meet the changing conditions in business and industry," the speaker concluded.

Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Ross Calfee and E. A. Marshall, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Clark.

From Citha to New York came Captain Dan Kirby and his beautiful bride, Maria. Winter had settled down on the city and its great crowds frightened Maria. Then, when on their first night in a new land, her husband mysteriously disappeared, everything seemed to turn upside down.

With but a limited knowledge of English to all her, Maria didn't know where to turn. The Bureau of Missing Persons was unable to locate him. Then, the description of an unidentified man appearing in a newspaper, sent Maria out hopefully to a Park Avenue hospital. Not trusting her feet to get her there with sufficient speed, she hailed a taxi. Stepping in, two pairs of hands drew Maria to the floor, gazed her mouth and darkness fell!

Voting out one hundred dollars to the Red Cross for the Mississippi Valley flood sufferers, the Richmond Lions club held its weekly meeting yesterday in the Hotel Carquinez. A letter from the Red Cross was read by Secretary Art Paris of the club.

Ford E. Samuel, the speaker of the day, made a talk on the ideals of living, and Attorney Hill Sanders spoke to the club on forest conservation.

M. W. Morgan, optometrist, was chairman of the day. Announcement was made by President Claude E. Clark that Boy Scout fund campaign meeting will be held this evening in the chamber of commerce rooms.

Tr. A. B. Hinkley, granted ruler of Richmond Lodge of Elks, reported that arrangements were being made for a Lions night at the Elks lodge. The Lions committee in charge of the program includes C. E. Donnelly, A. C. Paris, H. H. Myland, D. J. Shaw and Archie Winchell. The affair will take place in June.

City Treasurer Ira R. Vaughn has resumed his duties after an attack of pneumonia several days ago.

han's Paramount production, "Blind Alleys" starts. Greta Nissen is the bride and Evelyn Brent the other woman. Curious to know what happens to Tom? Who Greta's abductors are? "Blind Alleys" will be at the California theatre today and tomorrow. Owen Davis is the melodrama's author. Frank Tuttle, director of "The Lucky Devil" and "Love 'em and Leave 'em," was at the microphone.

Other features on the same program include "Pink Elephants," a Mermaid comedy; "Key Hole Cruise," a screen novelty; "International News" and Eddie Moore at the organ.

Wilma Banky Slander Suit Meets Defeat

BERLIN, April 26.—Before a "sold out" house Sari Fedak, famous Hungarian actress, former wife of Franz Molnar, and recently champion of the "second Valentine" in America was acquitted in Budapest today of the charge of having slandered Wilma Banky, Hollywood film star.

Wilma's father accused Sari of having called his daughter a "treacherous little cat who had been glad to kiss her hand in Budapest." The remark was supposed to have been made because Wilma refused to endorse over Sari's Valentino film.

The audience, which packed the court room, resembled a fashion show and gave Sari a great ovation following her acquittal. The acquittal came when Sari denied having made the alleged remark and promised to reconcile herself with Wilma when she goes to Hollywood in June.

When the judge asked whether Sari was married, she exclaimed "Thank God, no."

ROMANTIC FILM HOLDS SCREEN AT RICHMOND

Two stirring love stories are unfolded side by side in "The Blonde Saint," which starts a two day run at the Richmond theatre today.

The principal romance involves Lewis Stone and Doris Kenyon. Their affairs are interwoven in the romance of a young Stellan couple, played by Ann Rork and Gilbert Roland.

Incidentally, "The Blonde Saint" is said to be the first of the feature photoplays of the year to emphasize a trend of producers to discard jazz, cabaret and so-called modern life in favor of romantic adventure.

"The Blonde Saint" based on Stephen F. Whitman's novel "The Isle of Life," was adopted by Marion Fairfax, produced by Scribner, Rork for First National Pictures and directed by Svend Gade.

Other film features on the same program include "Soup to Nuts," another roaring comedy featuring Neal Burns; and the latest Fox News events.

Coming Friday and Saturday, Blasco Ibanez' famous novel "Mare Nostrum," featuring Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno.

S. F. Men Held For Booze Bribe

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, April 26.—The department of justice today opposed review by the supreme court of the case of Charles I. Daniels and George Appell, convicted in San Francisco federal court of having given an $8,100 bribe to a dry agent to help them withdraw whiskey from bond.

In their petition for review Daniels and Appell contended that an offense against the United States had been neither charged nor proved, and that they were deprived of the constitutional right to a speedy trial.

The department took the stand that bribery was "fully charged and proved," and that Daniels and Appell went to trial without any objection to delays and have no right to have their complaint heard now.

Conservation of U. S. Timber Through Fire Prevention Urged

The United States is using up its timber supply four times as rapidly as that supply is being replaced through growth," declared Hall W. Sanders, speaking before the Lion's Club at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday noon, as a feature of the American Forest Week observance in Richmond arranged through the efforts of the civic affairs committee of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, headed by C. C. Kratzer.

"Ninety per cent of our forest fires are man-caused," continued Sanders. "They are due generally to carelessness of campers and others. We use about 24,000,000 (billion) cubic feet for wood a year while forest fires sweep 23 million acres and did damage estimated at $38,000,000. Something like 5,000,000 trees have to be cut each year to maintain telephone and telegraph wires. We use approximately 500 million fence posts in this country every year and 200 million feet of timber is used in mining and excavating operations annually. The railroads use 125 million new ties each year while the cooperage industry uses about 250 million cubic feet of wood every twelve months. The pencil industry produces a billion pencils every year.

"In the neighborhood of 45 million pounds of maple sugar products are produced in United States every year. The value of turpentine, rosin and like products of the forests reaches $40,000,000 (40 million) every year. "There are 81,000,000 acres of idle land in this country that should be put to work growing trees.

The civic affairs committee of 800,000,000 acres has been reduced to 125,000,000 acres."

the American Legion, women's organizations, the public library, teachers, Boy Scouts, are all adding the observance of Forest Week. Miss Norah McNeill, librarian, has arranged a special display of forest pictures and text books dealing with the American Forest problem.

Hall W. Sanders is the official speaker for the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce. He talks today before the students of the Richmond high school and at noon before the Kiwanis club.

Richmond's observance of Forest Week comes to a climax Friday night at the Roosevelt Junior High school, part of a very interesting program arranged for the annual scholarship fund benefit, sponsored by the Richmond Parent-Teachers' association of which Mrs. C. L. Thies is president. The capacity of the Roosevelt Jr. High school auditorium is expected to be taxed to its limit.

"Our original virgin forest area in the Chamber of Commerce which inaugurated Richmond's observance of Forest Week comprises C. C. Kratzer, Wallace Snelgrove, R. T. Osborn, J. C. Hitchcock, Nora Ashfield, J. A. Rihn, Norah McNeill, A. L. Paulsen, W. C. Dobler and President P. M. Sanford of the C. of C. as ex-officio member.

SHAW DUBBED 'SHOP SOILED'

By ROBERT J. PREW
(By Universal Service)
Special Cable Dispatch
LONDON, April 26.—George Bernard Shaw

placed himself on record today as a "shop soiled author" in a characteristic comment on the rejection by the Royal Academy of a portrait of him by John Collier. The academy at the same time accepted a portrait of Aldous Huxley by the same painter.

"The news of the rejection is as surprising to me as it is to every one else," said Shaw. "All I can say is there is nothing wrong with the portrait, there is nothing wrong with Collier, and nothing wrong with me. The Royal Academy is the only other party concerned. It is for it to explain if there is anything to be explained."

Collier said he considered the Shaw portrait the better of the two paintings. Shaw now intends to present the picture to the Dublin National Academy.

Last Rites Held For Slain Actor

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 26.—"Oh, how I miss you, dear old pal of mine!"

Voices more often heard in the tuneful songs of musical comedy sounded through a flower-filled room today; voices that were blurred with tears as Ray Raymond's comrades of the stage said good-bye to him.

Men and women who had sung and danced with him behind the footlights, came to sing for him a last time at the funeral services for the dead musical comedy star. They sang old hymns, and then their own farewells.

"Oh, How I Miss You, Dear Old Pal of Mine!"

And in a little curtained room aside from the Leroy Bagley funeral chapel, sat two black-garbed women who did not speak to each other, Dorothy Mackaye, Raymond's widow, and his mother, Mrs. A. R. Cedarbloom.

Their eyes did not meet. They went separately, when the services were over, for their last look at the dead actor.

Miss Mackaye, heavily veiled in black, and supported by Miss Helen Wilkinson and her nurse, knelt beside the casket. Then, as she turned away, apparently walking strongly, she fainted. She was taken to her home where the doctor and nurse worked over her for an hour before she revived.

Mrs. Cedarbloom, shaken with hysteria and half-carried from the chapel by Edward Bowen, a life-long friend of her son, wept without restraint and cried out Raymond's name.

GUNMEN TURN TO INQUISITION

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, April 26.—Chicago's gangland has reverted to the ancient days of the inquisition and the feudal systems, it was believed by authorities here today, when they found a youth of 21 with his tongue cut out.

Police are working on the theory that the torture was used because he had talked too much about inside affairs of gangdom. The youth is Joseph Krowczyk. He was found by Sergeant Burke and his cruising squad in a packard automobile on the outskirts of the city. He was slowly bleeding to death. With him were two other men, John Wainiak, 27, and George Banskack, 33. They were taken into custody.

When questioned they said they had been making a tour of the roadhouses, and had been drinking. While returning to the city, they asserted, they had struck a telephone which had caused the youth to bite his tongue off.

This was absolutely denied by surgeons at the Austin hospital, who said the tongue of Krowczyk had been pulled out and had been cut with a sharp knife far back in the throat.

When found the two other men were sitting along side the bleeding youth, stolidly smoking cigarettes. They said they were debating as how to best reach a doctor.

MODERN RINGMEN BETTER BOXERS THAN OLD TIMERS

CORBETT HOLDS RING SCIENCE HAS ADVANCED

By JACK CONWAY
BOSTON, April 26.—"Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney are both better boxers than John L. Sullivan was, when at the peak of his fighting form."

James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion of the world and the man who wrestled the heavy-weight crown from the Boston strong boy at the New Orleans 34 years ago last September, made this dramatic statement to me recently while here for a theatrical engagement.

"I do not agree with those persons who claim that the old-timers were superior in all branches of boxing," continued Corbett, "Sharkey and Maloney are both fast, clever boxers. They have profited by the experiences of champions from the time of Sullivan down to that of Tunney. It is natural that they should be more scientific than most of the old-timers."

"In the case of John L. the original Boston strong boy was considered a master boxer."

I asked Corbett how he thought Sharkey and Maloney compared with Sullivan as punchers.

"That is another story," went on Corbett, "Sharkey and Maloney might be able to cutbox Sullivan for a time, but they never could have stood up before his terrific punching power. I believe Sullivan was the greatest puncher that ever lived."

"It is said of John L. that he once boasted he could kill a blindfolded bull with a single wallop. There was nobody who cared to risk any money that he couldn't do so."

"I won the title from Sullivan because I didn't let him get over a real wallop. I was to fast and elusive for the famous old warrior."

"I don't believe that Sharkey and Maloney, skillful as they are, could have kept out of the way of Sullivan's fierce offensive and once he got a full punch at any man that night's work was over."

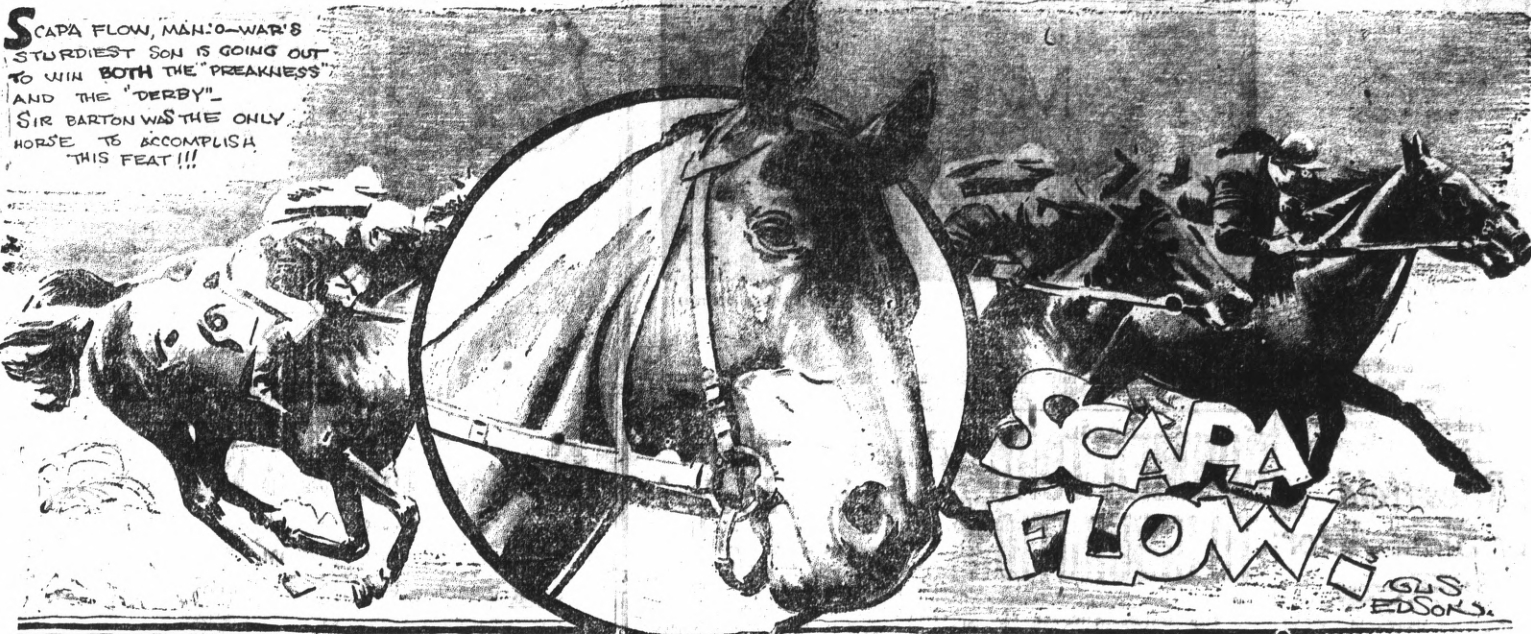

"I'm going to give you one tip, though. The heavyweight who is finally selected as Gene Tunney's opponent won't have any picnic. Tunney lacks the flash and color of Dempsey, but he is a perfect mechanical boxer. He never makes a false move in the ring."

"I like Sharkey and Maloney very much. I also have the greatest respect for Dempsey, but I don't believe any of these men can defeat Tunney."

"Gene is a great boxing character. He lives the proper kind of a life and, is a fine boost for boxing. He also has the real courage."

FRENCH RATED SURE WINNERS OF DAVIS CUP

By ROBERT A. HERFORD
(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, April 26.—"Might as well inscribe France's name on the Davis Cup now and pack it for delivery to Borotra, La Coste, Cochet, Brugnon & Co. America is going to have to do it anyway, and it would save a lot of time next summer."

This expresses the attitude of the pessimistic tennis fan after following the recent cyclonic indoor campaign of Jean Borotra, known as the Bounding Basque and ranked in a triple tie for first position in French tennis, and Jacques Brugnon, fourth ranking player, and Davis Cup doubles standby.

"Wait till summer comes. Tilden isn't a cripple yet—and Bill Johnston, so far as we know, hasn't made reservations in the old folks' home." The optimistic fan, adopted the Missourian's "Show me" attitude.

To the man on the fence it looks as though John P. Optimist and William Pessimist both have pretty good working arguments. We happen to have seen Borotra and Brugnon in all of their recent indoor matches except the Philadelphia-Paris affair.

The ease with which Borotra and Brugnon won the international interclub match between the Sporting Club of Paris and the Heights Casino Club of Brooklyn, the first competition of its kind in the history of tennis, and later swept through all opposition in the international indoor tournament to dominate doubles and singles finals, made us inclined for the moment to agree with the pessimists.

In the Heights Casino match the flashy Borotra, his scarlet beret, the Basque peasant cap, as much a part of his tennis equipment as his racket, bobbing about, the court like a poppy before a spring gale, looked truly unbeatable. He easily defeated Manuel Alonzo, second ranking player on the American ranking list, and Francis T. Hunter fared no better. But the really significant part of the two Frenchmen's latest Improvement in the game of Jean Borotra, a cyclone in doubles competition, but known as the Dear sister of the French quartet in singles.

Brugnon, who also conquered Alonzo, has developed an annoying high twisting service and his former erratic driving has steadied down 70 per cent.

Certainly the pessimists have reason for gloom when they recall that France has three players, La Coste, Borotra and Cochet, any one of whom can beat Brugnon. But after a careful analysis the stand of the optimists seems the more logical. They point out that with the exception of Alonzo and Dr. George King, none of America's ranking first ten men opposed the Frenchmen. They also point out that the regular Davis

Huge Land Deal Is Consummated

CLOVIS, Cal., April 26.—What is said to be the biggest land sale in the state in the past few months took place yesterday when the federal mortgage and bond company represented by Philip Hume completed negotiations for the purchase from the Anglo Trust company of San Francisco of about nine square miles of land three miles northeast of Clovis. The property was known as the International tract. The deal was closed for $425,000.

Hume, who has returned to San Francisco will be here the end of the week to take charge.

A deed for a portion of the holding will be filed this week under a contract purchased by a Los Angeles Syndicate composed of Fred M. Ashe and George S. Yarnell of Los Angeles and C. M. Landis of Pasadena.

Dougalls Meet Santa Fe Nine In Return Game

A close contest is anticipated for this evening at the Santa Fe ball park when the Dougall Hardware nine clashes with the Santa Fe Apprentices in a return game. The railroaders defeated the Dougalls last week, 3 to 1, and expect to duplicate their performance today.

The Dougalls, including such stars as "Merc" Glum and Pinto, are confident that they will emerge victors over Dave Cook's Santa Fe outfit.

Speed Record Made By Yacht

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, April 25.—Mistaken for a rum runner, the 60-foot yacht W. J. Conners, III, arrived here today after establishing what is believed to be a new record from Palm Beach to New York. The yacht covered the 1200 miles in actual running time of 45 hours and 40 minutes.

A coast guard patrol chased the yacht last Friday afternoon off the coast of Maryland. When the patrol came alongside its cannon was uncovered and ready for action, but no shots were fired.

W. J. Conners, Buffalo newspaper publisher and William Bigelow, Commodore of the National Speed Boat club were the only passengers.

The last lap of the trip from Delaware breakwater to the Battery was made in 5 hours and 37 minutes.

LOCAL ANGLERS PREPARING FOR FISHING TRIPS

Unusual good conditions favor the 1927 trout fishing season, which opens in most of the California districts next Sunday, May 1, is the opinion of R. B. Dougall, well-known local sportsman and president of the Richmond Sportsmen's Association.

Word has come from the Sierra district that the larger rivers are high and muddy, due to melting snows, and the best fishing will likely be found in the smaller streams. All the streams are reported to have plenty of water from the heavy rains.

The new Fish and Game Commission ruling providing for the planting of four and five inch fish at the end of each season, is expected to result in the catching of larger fish than ever, Dougall stated.

Districts that will be open to the anglers on Sunday morning are 1, 1-1-2, 2, 3, 4 and 4-1-2. The above districts open Sunday include some of the best fishing grounds in the state.

Many Richmond anglers are getting their tackle in shape and testing their lines and leaders in preparation for the season's opening. Richmond people and the places they will fish next Sunday are as follows: H. Skow and family, Bear River, Amador county; C. L. Mitchell and family, Murphy's, Calaveras county; Harry Carr and family, W. H. Ford and family, Santa Cruz county; R. V. Martin and family, O. C. Miller and family, Santa Cruz county; F. T. Forwick, B. Houston and E. Forwick, Callistoga.

ed in some regions, especially at New Madrid, Mo., where the federal government constructed a great levee in the face of much local opposition. Engineers were told by the people of New Madrid that the levee would break in a flood. And it did. New Madrid is under from ten to fifteen feet of water and the whole St. Francis valley is flooded for a hundred miles.

New Orleans tonight was feeling the rising water. Most of the flood is above New Orleans, approaching at the rate of thirty to forty miles a day. It will be several days before the crisis is reached here.

A plan to cut levees at a distance from New Orleans to relieve pressure on levees protecting the city were being discussed today, according to word from that city. Property valued at approximately $6,000,000 would be flooded if the dykes are cut but this damage would be inconsequential compared with damage that would follow a break of levees protecting this city. Residents of the territory that would be flooded voice strong opposition to the plan, contending breaks up river have based up the head of water to where the down river levees will hold.

A controversy has also developed in Mississippi over the question of evacuating families living in lowlands that will be flooded south of Greenville. Grover Murphree insists that all shall leave their homes. The Red Cross contends this is not necessary.

The discussion is enlivened by hints that rich planters upstate would have the militia drive negro farm hands from the valley to the highlands where negro labor is badly needed because of migration to the north.

The heaviest loss of life reported was at Head, Miss., where twenty-five persons marooned in a building were forced to jump into the water when the structure caught fire. Many are reported to have lost their lives.

The levee protecting Helena, Ark., which has threatened to give way, was still holding this

Death Calls Mrs. Elizabeth Dean

Friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Dean, wife of P. M. Dean, 106 Nichol avenue, were grief-stricken to hear that she died suddenly at the St. Joseph's hospital in San Francisco April 25. Though Mrs. Dean has been ill for some time her condition was not considered serious and yesterday, while visiting at the hospital.

Born in San Francisco and having resided in Richmond for many years past she will be missed by a wide circle of friends. The remains are at White's parlors at Sutter and Pierce streets and funeral services will be held at St. Mary's Cathedral. The date has not been set as yet.

Pre-School Clinic Attended By 34

The pre-school clinic at the Richmond health center has been attended thus far by thirty-four children who will enter the primary grades at Lincoln school next August, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Nora L. Purviance, director of the center.

The clinics, which are conducted so that physical defects in children of pre-school age may be discovered, will be held Wednesday and Thursday mornings of this week between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock.

afternoon. The river has come to a stand at that point and will start to fall in a few hours. Thousands of refugees are gathered at Helena, including many from Arkansas City, where 2,000 people were evacuated by skiffs and steamboats after fifteen feet of water had settled over the town.

Much of the country that will be flooded in the region south of Vicksburg is already swamp lands and sparsely settled.

The river from Memphis north was falling today and conditions reported as improving.

some of the most fundamental precepts of the Girl Scout movement, such as obedience to leaders, courtesy, cheerfulness, friendship, trust, thrift and friendliness.

Announcement was made during the evening that a training for leaders of the Girl Scout organization will be established in Richmond within a short time. Volunteer leaders will be given a thorough schooling in the principles of the movement, it was stated.

A short musical program given last night included three vocal solos, "Gypsy Love Song", "For You Alone" and "In the Garden of My Heart" sung by Miss Helen Christensen, accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Cunningham. Miss Violet Trempner acted as hostess for the evening. Decorations consisted of roses.

The quarterly banquet of the Northern District of Business and Professional Women's clubs will be held May 8, at Stanford Union, Palo Alto, starting at 10 a. m. Reservations for the repast will have to be made with Mrs. Helen Kingsbury of the local organization before May 5, it was announced.

The club will hold its next business meeting on Tuesday May 13, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

party. She left a door unlocked so Henry could get in. Henry hid in the room of her mother, Mrs. Josephine Brown, who was away for the night. Rath saw him there and talked with him a moment when she came back from the party with her husband and child.

Henry had the "sash" weight which she had left under the pillow in Mrs. Brown's room for him. He had chloroform, some cheese cloth and a blue cotton handkerchief. Also, she had hospitably left a quart of liquor for him, of which he drank about half. She put her child to bed, then went into her husband's room and waited until he was sound asleep, then returned to the waiting Henry.

They talked briefly and Henry kissed her, and went into Albert Snyder's room. She stood in the hallway and saw Gray pummeling the sleeping man with the sash weight, as related. Then Gray tied Snyder's hands and feet, but the handkerchief, saturated with chloroform, over his face, besides stuffing his mouth and nostrils with the gauze, also soaked with chloroform. Then Henry turned Snyder over so the art editor's face would be buried in a pillow and rejoined Rath.

They returned to the sitting room, this pair, and Henry Judd suddenly thought of some picture wire he had brought along. So he went into the death chamber and wrapped the wire around Albert Snyder's throat, tightening it with his fingers.

They went around and upset the premises generally, to hear out the robber idea, then sat and gossiped, talking of this and that until daybreak, when Henry Judd tied his sweetheart's hands and feet and left to return to Syria. She first got a wallet out of Albert Snyder's pocket and gave it to Henry Judd. She does not know how much money it contained.

After Henry's departure, she rolled out of her mother's bed, whereon he had placed her, and aroused her little daughter, telling her to get a neighbor. Such, in substance, and briefly, was the story of that night in Queens village that the state hopes to finish in the death house at Sing Sing.

"I was in love with Gray and Gray said he loved me," said the confession. A quick look at Rath showed her dancing over so briefly and perhaps ever so contemptuously at the baggy body of her erstwhile lover. She "mistered" him all through the statement.

Forest Week To Be Observed at Library

The public library is cooperating with other local agencies in the observance of National Forestry Week. Turning the attention of tomorrow's generation to the importance of trees is a phase of education which is worthy the interest of every public spirited community. The United States is today the only large country without a national forest policy. Public opinion can change this.

During the week books and pictures on trees and forest preservation will be displayed at the library.

Then Edward met Mrs. Viola Kendor, who is 23, a party. Now Edward couldn't show Mrs. Kendor a good time on $14 a week, so he helped himself to $500 of the company's funds and he and Mrs. Kendor, and her sister and Edward's cousin, even to Michigan City, Ind., for a party.

They all were arrested when they returned. Authorities recovered $200. The rest had been spent on the party, mostly for liquor.

Edward can't be a regular guy on $14 a week, Edward said. "I met Viola and I wanted to show her a good time, but you can't get far on $14. So I helped myself. Oh well, a short life but a merry one."

SEATTLE, April 26.—China has turned "Red," J. Harold Dollar, vice-president of the Dollar Steamship line declared when he landed in Seattle from the President Pierce, after six months in the Orient, principally at Shanghai.

With the hand of Russia active behind the scenes of the Nationalist movement, "prompt action" by the United States and European governments, he insisted, was needed to prevent complete Bolshevik control.

"The Bolsheviks are on top now," he asserted, "and China needs outside assistance to put them down. Foreign governments will have to take prompt action to maintain orderly government."

While Chiang Kai Shek, supreme general of the National forces in the past has been regarded as sympathetic to the radical elements, Dollar said that present indications were that Chiang was attempting to hold the Nationalist cause steady for the more moderate element.

Mrs. Dollar and their two children, Alice Barr Dollar, and J. Harold Dollar, Jr., accompanied the shipping executive on his return.

MAMOLA DEATH INQUEST FAILS TO FIX BLAME

G. Blake and Dan Tonelli, Victor Jans, whose body was recovered from the bay near Oleum on April 18, was found to have met death from accidental drowning.

Death of Frank Hofas, of El Cerrito, was found to have resulted from a fracture of the skull received in an automobile accident in February. No blame was placed by the jury.

PRECAUTIONS FOR SHIPPING TAKEN AT SPAN

CROCKETT, April 26.—Pending the decision of the United States War department as to the character of permanent fenders to be built about the center piers of the great Carquinez Bridge, which will be formally opened to motor traffic on May 21, the American Toll Bridge company, owners and builders, has erected temporary protection for shipping.

Six 8-ton anchors have been dropped from barges anchored upstream and down-stream from the center piers and heavy cables have been attached to the piers themselves, forming a giant fan-like net which will prevent any ship, which might be carried off its course by the treacherous and swift waters of Carquinez straits, brushing against the massive concrete and steel piers.

These temporary fenders will be kept in place until the war department decides on the best type of permanent fenders when they will be replaced.

Meanwhile the electrical equipment of the world's greatest highway bridge is practically completed. This provides for the lighting of the mariner's signals on the piers and superstructure and lights for the toll houses at operation ends of the great bridge.

The painting of the huge superstructure, comprising 14,000 tons of steel, will be completed by May 10, according to Oscar H. Klatt, president of the American Toll Bridge company.

Work on the highway approaches to the bridge is progressing rapidly and with fair weather assured the road builders promise that the highways will be in splendid shape for the big dedication and opening ceremonies on Saturday May 21.

Meanwhile the arrangements for the motor caravans, north and south and east which will meet at the bridge on opening day are being completed, under the direction of Max Horwinski, Oakland Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Caravan Committee.

Headed by Governor C. C. Young, one caravan will leave Sacramento at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, May 21.

Another caravan will leave Oakland an hour later, comprising the delegations from San Francisco, the Peninsula, San Jose and points south.

From Fresno and Stockton and way points, south and in between will come a third caravan. Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Barbara will meet at Stockton on the morning of May 21 and make the trip to Carquinez bridge.

The Nevada motorists and those in the upper Sacramento valley will tie-in with the caravan headed by Governor Young.

From the Napa and Sonoma valleys, from along the Redwood highway will come other motorists.

Each motor car will carry an insignia from the California State Automobile Association identifying it as part of the Carquinez bridge celebration caravan. These insignias to be placed on the windshield will be supplied by the Chamber of Commerce, or the automobile association offices in the various communities.

The arrival of the caravans have been so timed that they will arrive at opposite ends of the bridge about the same time and will be

Mystery Surrounds Death of Air Pilot

(By Universal Service)

MOBILE, Ala., April 26.—An aviator without an airplane, lying dead on the beach of Holling's Island, his watch free from sea water corrosion, a rude cross in the sand near his severed head.

He died before 1:30 when the dedication ceremonies start.

Holidays have been declared in Crockett and Vallejo for the big day. These two communities, adjoining the great structure will keep open house for the day.

These meager clues today were submitted to Conner S. F. Hale, following the finding of the body by a man about 30, almost entirely decomposed, but apparently dead in the garb of a flier, on the island in Mobile Bay. A watch number, a ring of keys and one gold tooth filling seem the only chances of identification.

Sales Sense

EXPERIENCED salesmen know that—measured against results—the incidental expense involved in "covering small towns off the beaten paths" often takes the profit out of a week's work.

The good will and sales value of regular contacts with customers wherever located, however, is generally recognized.

Most effective sales plans now include the regular use of Long Distance with substantial savings in both time and expense.

Even brief delay in travel is frequently turned to profitable account by alert salesmen through the use of Public Telephones—conveniently located everywhere.
